DATE OF TFO.

25X1B 1. A highway battalion, [REDACTED] of the 4th Engineers Regiment in Bratislava-Serod is stationed in the Obora labor camp near Malacky. This battalion is a labor detachment used for the "political reeducation" of unreliable army personnel, both officers and enlisted men. Recruits who are considered to be politically unreliable are sent directly to the battalion for six weeks basic training. No weapons are issued. Indoctrination classes are held for thirty minutes every morning, for four hours every Tuesday and Saturday afternoon and for two hours every Wednesday evening. The singing of "progressive songs" is conducted for two hours every Monday evening. The 1st Platoon of the detachment in Obora is employed in a quarry, the 2nd Platoon on the road between Miklasov (P49/S94) and Ilboke (P49/T15), the 3rd Platoon of skilled craftsmen on the repair of pontoons brought from Bratislava. The 2nd Company of the battalion is located in the Army training camp in Kanenica nad Cirokou.
